The Supper-Table

‘1-2. The pleasant firelight! I must still keep harping on it. 3. The kitchen hearth had an old-fashioned breadth, depth, and spaciousness, far within which lay what seemed the butt of a good-sized oak-tree, with the moisture bubbling merrily out at both ends. 4. It was now half an hour beyond dusk.